

HEADSTONE MANOR & MUSEUM

A message from.... Bill the Duck!

Hi there 🖐️ I'm Bill the Duck and I live at Headstone Manor and Museum. The museum is going to be very quiet as we've closed our doors to the public for a short while...but I'm still here! And I'd love to show you around my home. To start, I thought I'd show you where I spend most of my day, the moat. The moat was thought to be built in the 14th Century alongside the oldest parts of the Manor House. It is now believed to be the only filled moat in the whole of Middlesex! I hope you'll be able to join me over the coming weeks on my tour - we'll be meeting people, objects and maybe you'll even get a sight of those cheeky gnomes...
